Faulty Wiring Causes Stir In Fugal Hall

The girls in Fugal Hall, Heritage, were forced from their dorm residences Tuesday night at approximately 5 p.m. when smoke began billowing out of the basement of the building.

According to Eldon Henriksen, University Fire Marshall, who inspected the scene the smoke was caused by an over heated dry transformer.

Firemen entered the basement wearing gas masks to protect them from the smoke.

The girls were not allowed to return to the Hall until the smoke had cleared. Firemen used fans in the basement to help clear the smoke so that the residents could return to their apartments, Henriksen said.

About one hundred girls gathered around Fugal Hall to watch the excitement and firemen.

The master switch was thrown at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse Halls areas while the electrical system was being repaired.

The girls were forced to eat their dinners by candle light.

Program Bureau-Assembly Talent

A Christmas program will be presented by the Program Bureau at the student assembly Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse, according to Jamie Thompson, head of the Program Bureau.

The first part of the assembly will center around the happy, spirited side of Christmas, while the last part will deal with the more serious scenes of Christmas.

According to Miss Thompson, the assembly will feature songs and dances of snowmen, candy canes, silver bells, winter, drums, and Santa Claus.

BYU Plans To Limit Enrollment To About Its Present Size

Preparations are underway to level off future BYU enrollment to approximately its present size, according to Acting President Earl C. Crockett.

Enrollment for this autumn semester includes 16,644 daytime students and 1,164 evening students for a total of 17,808, which exceeds capacity of the present plant.

Enrollment this year increased 2,200 or about 15 per cent over last year. University officials point out that an accelerated flood of World War II babies is expected to hit the colleges next year, meaning even higher increases if no action is taken to level off the enrollment.

Music Groups Combine In Christmas Concert

Reservations are now being accepted for the combined musical organizations of the BYU presentation of "Music for Christmas 1964" Wednesday and Thursday in the Concert Hall of the Harris Fine Arts Center, according to Grant Elkington of the Music Dept.

Tickets may be obtained from the Fine Arts Tickets Office in P-303 or by calling Ext. 2649 or 3801.

THE CONCERTS will begin at 8:15 both evenings and will play works of Handel, Ulysses Kay, Mozart and others.

The "Cantate de Noel" (A Christmas Cantata) is the last published work of the twentieth century French-Swiss composer, Arthur Honegger, having been written during the fall and winter of 1933, while the composer was recovering from an illness.

It was commissioned by Paul Sadler for the 25th Anniversary of the Basle Chamber Orchestra and was given its premiere by the conductor and orchestra on Dec. 18 of the same year.

A SIGNIFICANT aspect of this intensely integrated and scholarly work is its incorporation of six great Christmas hymns in counter-point as its development occurs.

These hymns are: from Germany, Silent Night and Lo, How a Rose Up-Springing; the English Hymn, From Heaven on High; the Angels Fly; the French Christmas hymn, He is Born, the Divine Infant; and the Latin hymns Gloria in Excelsis and Laudate Dominum.

THE LISTENER can discern these themes recurring over and over against the other as the work progresses, and hear them being reiterated in the various instruments of the orchestra as the piece is brought to its close.

It was the wish of the composer that the hymns be sung in their original tongues, to express the universality of Christmas.

The part of the Children's Choir is sung by members of the Mormon Kammerchor which will leave in February for a semester of study in Salzburg, Austria.

All editorials are written with the concurrence and advice of Editorial Board, but final responsibility rests with the editor.

Universe Clarifies Position

In view of recent wire service, newspaper and radio reports concerning an editorial published in the Daily Universe, the paper's Editorial Board feels it necessary to clarify the policy and position of this newspaper.

Reports of "reprimands" and "slaps" by the administration which appeared in newspapers Monday and Tuesday are misleading. The Editorial Board of the Daily Universe has not been approached by the administration or by the student publications supervisor in any disciplinary capacity.

The statement given to the Daily Universe by former Acting President Earl C. Crockett was given to the newspaper as a statement of his support of President Ernest L. Wilkinson, not as a reprimand against the newspaper. The printing of the letter was a voluntary action of the Editorial Board.

The Daily Universe is a student newspaper. It operates on the policy that responsibility for published material rests with the Editorial Board. Articles and editorials written for publication are in no way censored prior to their appearance in print.

The editorial was not intended to belittle the administrative capabilities of Dr. Wilkinson. He has served the University with honor and dignity for 13 years. We believe that in the future he will continue to serve in comparable manner.

We feel that this point was misinterpreted and misrepresented by the news media. In published reports it was inferred that the Daily Universe is opposing the Presidency of Dr. Wilkinson. This is not true.

The decision to re-appoint Dr. Wilkinson was made by the University Board of Trustees. Their decision is respected by the studentbody and the newspaper Editorial Board will fully support the President now that he has been officially appointed.

However, we do feel that it is within our right to discuss any point, policy or decision concerning the University. This is in keeping with the basic responsibilities of student journalism.

Study 'Self, God' Says John H. Vandenberg

"All that man has to study is himself, God, and His creations," said John H. Vandenberg, presiding Bishop of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, in his Tuesday morning address at the Smith Fieldhouse.

He quoted parts of the "creation" from the Book of Genesis in the Bible, and told his listeners, "What God has created for us is good; the earth was created for man. But of all creations, man is the greatest."

"THE SUM EXISTENCE of man will be determined by his knowledge," the church leader said, and emphasized that the wisdom of this world is foolishness in the eyes of God.

Bishop Vandenberg told audience that, scripturally, the spirit and body of a soul of man, and in order to appreciate the spirit and body of man.

"YOU CAN FOOL too many people too much of the time and lead them into utter delusion. Therefore, if you are tempted to break away from conventional law, turn away from them that tempt you," he said.

"I would rather appreciate things I cannot have than things I cannot appreciate," Bishop Vandenberg quoted an apostle listening, "Let us be appreciative of all our great things."

Film To Be Shown Widely Honored

The film "Let There Be Light," which was produced by BYU last year and won national honors in a contest sponsored by the American Foundation for the Blind, will be shown Thursday.

THETA EPSILON CHI invites anyone interested in viewing the film to join the club at 7:30 p.m. in Radio Studio in the Harris Fine Arts Center.

"Let There Be Light" was filmed mainly at the Utah State School for the Blind in Ogden and at the Murray B. Allen Center for the Blind in Salt Lake City.

THE THEMEL centers around a young woman who is thinking of preparing to teach blind children. This will be the first time it has been shown on the BYU campus.

BYU is the only university in Utah and one of the few in the western United States that prepares teachers to educate the blind.

Campus Comment and Controversy

Returned Missionaries

I feel I must speak in defense of newly returned missionaries. There is entirely too much talk going around to the effect that they are all trying to get married as soon as possible; that they are overly forward with the opposite sex; and that they are trying to make up for all the fun they missed during their two years of celibate living.

I have gone out with several returned missionaries and have talked with other members of our "so-called weaker sex" who have also dated returned missionaries. We all agree that there is not a grain of truth to the above mentioned gossip.

Not one of us has ever had a returned missionary try to get fresh.

Returned missionaries do not propose to you on the first date. Returned missionaries do not try to kiss you before you ask them to. Returned missionaries do not act to hold hands with you all night. Returned missionaries always treat you with respect and courtesy.

I always feel so safe when I am out with a returned missionary.

I suppose I am just a little bit sinful in wishing returned missionaries would be just a little bit "wild." In fact, I even had a returned missionary slap my face once when I tried to kiss her too soon.

Short, Short Skirt

Oh to be a coquette, a pom-pom girl, or a flagwaver and to be able to wear my short, short-skirted uniform to the Saturday night stag dance... to be able to shake, stomp, surf, and swing all my little skirt flies and my seventy "blue and white" panties show... Where, Oh glorious, BYU dress standards is now thy sting?

UC Demonstrations

I am a 1964 graduate of BYU, and I now live in the San Francisco Bay Area. I have observed the recent demonstrations at the University of California campus in Berkeley and they are, to me, appalling.

There seems to be a lack of understanding and desire to solve the issue (if it can be called such) on both sides but especially that of some members of the student body. Their sense of right and wrong and the value of their education appears warped. They lack respect for the rights of others. In the recent arrests, a great many law enforcement officers were needed to handle the students. If there should have been a real emergency, no policemen would have been readily available.

I am grateful for the spirit that prevails on the Brigham Young University campus. The protection of the Lord and the Church is evident in all activities of the University. I am, indeed, thankful and so very proud of my alma mater. I pray that the "Spirit of the Y" will never be tarnished or even faintly dimmed.

Ireland Seeks Support, Opposes Veto Attempt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Ireland appealed to the smaller nations Tuesday to oppose firmly and vigorously any attempt to establish a big power financial veto over U. N. peacekeeping.

IN A SPEECH that reflected concern of many small U. N. member states, Irish Foreign Minister Frank Aiken told the General Assembly that any attempt to establish that kind of veto could only be regarded as a revolutionary act designed to destroy the Assembly's financial powers.

Aiken also delivered a spirited defense of Article 19 of the U. N. charter under which the Soviet Union faces loss of its Assembly vote because it is more than two years behind in its peacekeeping assessments.

"IT IS MORE than a question of dollars and cents," he said. "The very survival of the U. N. as at present constituted, with its checks and balances between the Security Council and Assembly, is involved."

Aiken said the Assembly has the right to assess every member for its share of the expenses of implementing its decisions, and each has the duty to pay even if it is opposed to any particular decision.

"If one member were allowed to refuse payment without penalty, how is the organization to be financed if all other members exercise an equal right not to pay?" he asked.

"If we are to make a successful stand on this issue which is vital to the life of the United Nations, that means so much to the smaller members, we must, I submit, stand firm now."

THE SOVIET Union contends that the assessments for Middle East and the Congo peacekeeping were illegal because they were approved by the Assembly instead of the Council. France takes a similar view.

The United States supports the idea of recognizing the Council's major role in peacekeeping, but does not want the Assembly empowered to act if the Council is paralyzed by a big power veto.

Regime in Crisis; Castro Aid Fired Attempts Suicide

HAVANA, (AP) — A comrade of Fidel Castro's guerrilla days shot himself in the head Tuesday after being fired as Labor Minister, a government spokesman said. He was in critical condition Tuesday night.

AUGUSTO Martinez Sanchez, who fought at Fidel Castro's side in the Sierra Maestra and later became Defense Minister, was told Monday of his dismissal.

The spokesman said he was fired because of "serious administrative mistakes but which in no way affected his personal, moral and revolutionary honor and unquestionable loyalty to our cause."

In Washington officials speculated that the suicide attempt was indicative of a critical power struggle within the Castro regime. They said a government crisis appears to have opened a way for many months in Cuba.

Moonshot Milestone... Rocket Test Succeeds

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N. M., (AP)—A Little Joe II rocket hurled a dummy moonship skyward Tuesday in an apparently successful test of the launch escape system for proposed moonflight astronauts.

U. S. SPACE officials termed the test a milestone in this tion's bid to put men on the moon by 1970.

Leaving behind a column of white flame, the 340,000-pound thrust Little Joe II thundered from its launch pad at 8 a.m. (MST), as scheduled.

The rocket was knocked off course by a ground signal about 37 seconds after launch, at an altitude of about 31,000 feet.

THE 155,000-POUND thrust escape motors then ignited and pulled the dummy moonship vehicle away from the mock emergency.

Debris fell away from the point where the space capsule separated from Little Joe II. NASA officials said they had not determined whether this debris was part of the rocket.

One official said the incident had no bearing on the test which he said apparently was successful.

RANGE officials set out to recover the spaceship, which was to descend about 61 miles from the launch pad.

Tuesday's test was the fourth in the launch escape system series at White Sands. One test was primarily to qualify the Little Joe II vehicle. All have been largely successful.

Pest Control Talk . . .

Horticulture Professor Meets With Colleagues in Northwest

Associate Professor Clarence D. Ashton of the Horticulture Department is in Yakima, Washington for the meetings of the Washington State Horticultural Association.

THIS IS considered the most important horticulture meeting in the northwest. Accompanying Ashton will be several prominent fruit growers of the area. Two of them, Ray Alfred and Reed Wayman, are former BYU students.

Ashton has just returned from Iran where he was an advisor to the faculty of the College of Agriculture at the University of Tehran.

ONE OF THE important topics to be discussed at the meetings is pest control. Two reasons for the special interest are that pests are developing resistance to chemicals now being used, and these chemicals are proving harmful in other areas, especially human health.

The featured speaker at the event will be H. B. Tukey, one of the world's foremost Horticulturalists.

Denver, in white, slaps a shot toward the Cougar goal in hockey action at Winter Gardens Ice Arena Monday evening. DU, NCAA champs in 1964, won handily, 8-3.

Cougar Ickers Worn Down; DU Slams Out 8-3 Win

by Dave Fitzpatrick
Universe, Sportswriter

Denver University erupted for four goals in the third period to pull away from the Cougar Hockey Club Monday night and take an 8-3 win from the determined Briggs.

THE PIONEERS, 1964 NCAA champs, simply had too many goals for the outmanned Cougars. Leading the barrage was a 50 mm. howitzer named Andy Herreboot. Herreboot, team captain, fired in two goals and registered two assists. Teammate Myles Gillard also landed two goals in the two-minute span of the first period.

DU started the action with 2:10 gone in the first period when Marv Henning sent a shot in from about 20 feet out with Herreboot assisting.

THE COUGAR'S Leon Garinger came back less than a minute later as he slapped in a screen shot from just across the blue line. Gillard then went to work and, with assists from Don Cameron and Wayne Smith, put the Pioneers out in front, 3-1 at the end of the first stanza.

Garinger got his second goal with a minute and a half spent in the second period and was followed, eight minutes later, by Jim McLeland. That was all, however, as the Pioneers outskated the Cougars and wore them down to a frazzle.
